Thank you for selecting the Wii Party™ U game for the Wii U™ system.

Important Information

Please read this manual carefully before using this software. If the software will be used by children, the manual should be read and explained to them by an adult.

Also, before using this software, please read the content of the ⚠ Health and Safety Information application on the Wii U Menu. It contains important information that will help you enjoy this software.

Any of the following controllers can be used if they are paired with the console.

	Wii U GamePad		Wii Remote

◆ The number of required controllers varies from game to game. Some games can be played with up to four Wii Remote™ controllers and one GamePad.

◆ Only one Wii U GamePad controller can be used.

◆ A Wii Remote Plus can be used instead of a Wii Remote.

◆ When using a Wii Remote or Wii Remote Plus controller, a sensor bar is required. For details, see the Installing the Sensor Bar section of the printed Wii U Operations Manual.

Pairing Wii Remote Controllers

From the HOME Menu, select Controller Settings to display the screen shown to the right. Select Pair, and then follow the on-screen instructions to pair the controller.

Information about Audio Output

This game supports 5.1-channel linear PCM surround sound. In order to experience surround sound, select (System Settings) from the Wii U Menu, choose the TV item, and then change the audio-output type to Surround.

◆ In order to experience surround sound with this software, you will need to connect your Wii U console with a receiver that has a built-in HDMI™ port using a High Speed HDMI Cable. For more information about how to configure and connect your receiver, see the instruction manual for the receiver.

Connecting your system to the Internet lets you enjoy the following features:

Send Ratings and Posts

When playing a game that alternates between holding a Wii Remote and holding the Wii U GamePad, make sure to keep the GamePad nearby.

When you place the GamePad on the floor, put it on a flat surface. Make sure there is enough room around the GamePad to play safely. Stepping on or kicking the GamePad can lead to injury or damage to the GamePad.

Some games are played by turning the GamePad around and showing the screen to other players. If the GamePad becomes difficult to hold in this position, please put the GamePad on a stable surface, like a table or your lap.

When playing with the GamePad on the floor or when playing a GamePad Party game, make sure the GamePad is not being charged at the same time. If your hands or feet get caught in the Wii U GamePad AC adapter cord, it could lead to injury or damage to the GamePad.

When playing Water Runners in House Party mode, make sure there is plenty of space around you and do not make any vigorous movements. This could lead to injuries or damage to the GamePad and other nearby things.
